

I believe that consolidation of radio ownership has seriously and negatively impacted diversity of viewpoints, music, etc. The airwaves are owned by the public, but in recent years, the FCC has treated them as the private preserve of large corporations and has failed to protect the public interest. We are losing very valuable options for the public, through large ownership and resulting homogeniety. I would like to see a reversal of this trend.